Cats and hunters take note!

Campbell is a bird sanctuary. City councilmen passed a resolution some five years ago to that effect and signs on Leigh ave. and Winchester boulevard inform the motorist or visitor.

The Campbell Garden Club spearheaded the drive to proclaim Campbell a sanctuary for our feathered friends and are still active in support of local bird life.

"All members of the garden club provide for birds with bird houses, baths and bird feed, so they can eat and drink in safety," said Minnie Snyder, past president. "Birds should be appreciated for the life and color and song they bring to the community," she concluded.

TRANSFORMATION . . . The remodeled home of the Charles T. Morotta construction company at 145 Dillion ave. is taking on a new look . . . again. In recent months the small frame building has been transformed into a quaint and unique office structure with a rear building that resembles a decorative fire station. This week passersby were surprised to see more construction at the site. The building is taking on a second story . . . for now, that is.

Teachers form crisis committee to respond on release time issue

By PAT SAFFORD

A CRISIS COMMITTEE of the Campbell elementary teachers' association began meeting here last week in the continuing dispute over release time for organizational representatives.

According to Carroll Bergdahl, CETA president, each individual school in the district is also planning their own individual action in response to the school board's decision to not grant release time until the issue is settled.

Teachers also voted to censure the board over their action and are seeking sanctions of the local district from the California Teachers association. The teachers earlier termed the board's action "punitive" and "arbitrary."

IN AUGUST SCHOOL trustees instructed the administration not to grant release time for organizational representatives until the matter had been settled. During recent years the local CETA president had been granted release time during the last two periods of the day to take care of the group's business. Cost was reimbursed by CETA. A request for half-day release time for two representatives and for official board policy on the matter prompted trustees to re-evaluate the practive. Teachers referred the dispute to "persistent disagreement" proceedings.

School trustees met with Dick Montgomery, field representative for the California School Boards association in a three-hour session last Wednesday at the district office. The CETA representative is Roy Archibald, West Coast regional director of the National Education association. The two must now decide on a third party agreeable to both before investigation of the charges can begin. Final results of that study will be presented in a public meeting.

According to Bergdahl, both votes to censure (an official reprimand) and to seek sanctions were passed by overwhelming majorities at a CETA meeting held last week.

The move to seek sanctions is a request for an investigation by the CTA. Should the investigating group find the complaints justified they could take action declaring the local district "unfit" and request that all CTA teachers not hire into the district.

"Because the matter is in persistent disagreement," Superintendent James D'Avis said Monday, "the board is awaiting advice from their representative before proceeding." Earlier, trustees gave four reasons for directing the administration not to authorize requests for release time until the issue is settled. They were:

- That most comparable districts don't grant such release time.
- The request would be discriminatory because other teachers' organizations without the resources of the CETA could not take advantage of the program.
- Board policy on this matter would result in disruption in the district with other employee organizations requesting similar provisions.
- Adverse community reaction to the concept of organizational release time.

In a counter proposal last month, trustees offered four days yearly for release time for one member of any recognized employee organization.

Release time average two days elsewhere

Release time provisions in surrounding school districts range from "an average of two days yearly," in the Cambrian elementary district to one half-day for the president of the teacher's association in the San Jose unified school district.

Campbell union (elementary) school district teachers and trustees are now involved in a dispute over the issue of release time. For the past several years the local CETA president was allowed two periods daily of release time for organizational business.

Last week seven school districts were contacted to determine their release time agreements. In two elementary districts of comparable enrollment size, one offers no more than 10 days yearly and the other one half-day per month.

The districts and their provisions are:

- Union school district, San Jose, enrollment 9,400. No more than 10 days yearly for teacher's representative. Organization pays costs.
- Sunnyvale school district, Sunnyvale, enrollment 9,600. One half day per month for teacher association president. Other released time at discretion of superintendent.
- Moreland school district, San Jose, enrollment 7,500. No formal policy but have provided optional leave for teachers association of up to 10 days yearly. (Organization may request more). District pays cost.
- Franklin-McKinley, San Jose, enrollment 7,200. Twenty days yearly. Association pays costs. Teacher's association president has one day monthly. The additional 10 days are at the discretion of the teacher's group.
- Oak Grove school district, San Jose, enrollment 13,000. Each elective officer can have up to four days each year of released time. With four elected teacher's representatives, maximum is 16 days yearly. Association pays costs.
- Cambrian school district, San Jose, enrollment 4,300. Teacher's representative is released to attend conferences of the organization. Averages about two days yearly. Teachers association pays cost of substitute.
- San Jose unified school district, San Jose, enrollment 37,500. Half-day released time for president of teacher's association. Association pays costs.

Teachers prepare case

Campbell elementary teachers association is seeking court action over the grievance process in the district, according to Carroll Bergdahl, CETA president.

According to the teachers' representative, the group has secured legal counsel and a case is being prepared.

Bergdahl charges that the district has effectively stopped the procedure whereby a CETA representative is allowed to represent a grievance before the administration.

According to policy, the CETA president said, when it is necessary for a member of the grievance committee to investigate a charge, he or she is to be released for this without any loss of pay.

The suit will ask the court to compel the board to follow this procedure.

Superintendent James D'Avis said yesterday in response to the threatened lawsuit: "This grievance policy is a relatively new policy (adopted Feb. 22, 1973). When we have had released time requested," he continued, "it was granted."

"The administration feels that employees have an obligation to investigate a complaint before taking released time to investigate an actual grievance," he concluded.

Short planning session: two signs okayed

Two signs for "The Factory," the unique shopping-cultural center planned for the former Sunsweet plant in Campbell, received the approval of the planning commission on Monday.

But the sign approvals were about the only definite action the commissioners took on Monday when an apparent "record" was set for brevity for a planning commission meeting.

According to Art Kee, planning director, the 20-minute session was the shortest in the current history of the town.

Council to appoint youth commissioner

A new youth commissioner is scheduled to be appointed by the city council next Monday, Sept. 24, based on the recommendation of a "screening" committee that met this week.

The commissioner will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Julie Thiebaut who moved out of the area.

Councilmen Rusty Hammer and Norm Paul with Ben Gullo, youth advisory commission chairman, and Becky Campos, vice-chairman, interviewed candidates for the opening on Monday. Highlighting the meeting next Monday will be a public hearing on the proposed expenditure of revenue-sharing funds.

Three proposed items are scheduled for discussion and possible authorization. One concerns a $15,000 allocation for safety equipment for the police department. This funding will enable the city to purchase guns and other equipment for police officers.

An allocation of $3,500 is also proposed for emergency operating equipment for the police department.

The largest appropriation, estimated between $40-$50,000, may be authorized for the purchase of property adjacent to Rincon park, provided that negotiations with the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sanders, are completed by next Monday.

Scheduled also for council action is the proposed interim zoning ordinance for the area between Hamilton and Kennedy and Highway 17 and Winchester (See story below).

C of C suggests more industrial zoning

Only one of the three areas recommended by the Chamber of Commerce industrial committee for industrial zoning expansion has received the approval of the planning department.

That was revealed at the last council meeting when Art Kee, planning director, submitted a report on the CofC's recommendation.

Headed by Lowell Gratton, the industrial committee had suggested that south side of McGlincey lane from the present M-1-S zoning be extended to Union avenue for industrial uses. Kee indicated that such an extension would be logical.

The committee also had suggested that in the White Oaks road area the industrial use should be extended southward from the existing industrial area.

The third area recommended for industrial use by the CofC committee was Hacienda avenue west of Winchester boulevard.

In both these cases, Kee maintained that industrial land use would not seem justified.

In the city council discussion, the fact that much of the area involved was outside the city boundaries was also brought out.

The councilmen indicated that favored Kee's recommend action but suggested that steps be taken by staff to annex the areas involved that are not within the city.

Lightening the load

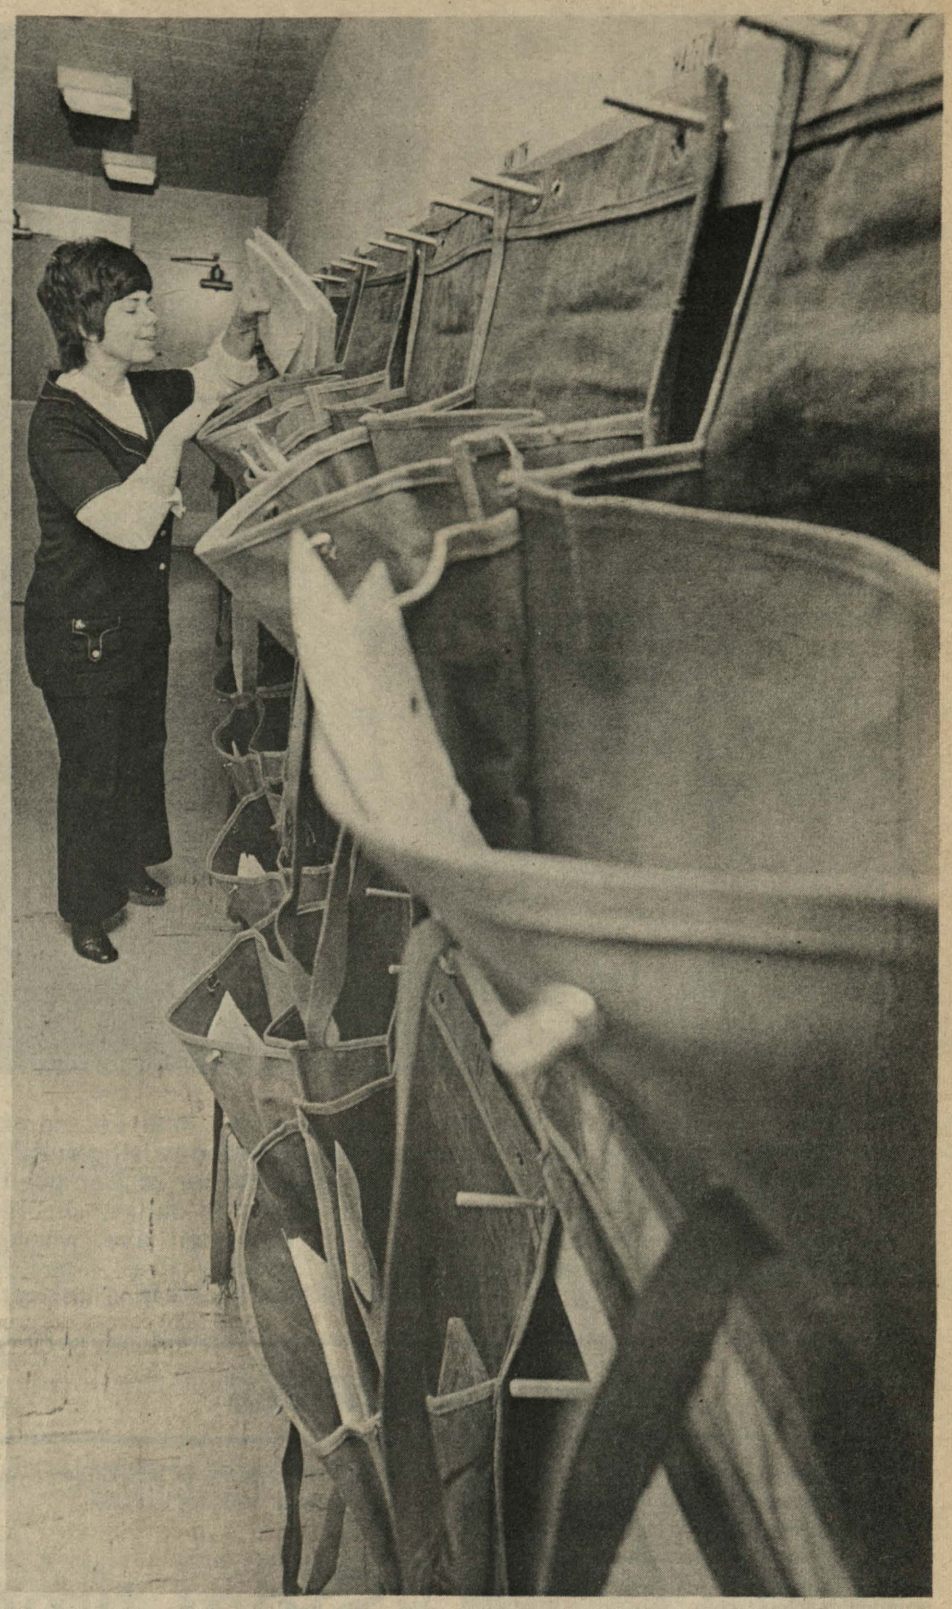
Charles L. Young, Jr., was moving from his 900 Sobrato home and left the rental truck parked in front of the residence. He also left some furniture sitting in front of the home.

Missing were a coffee table and mahogany bureau which contained clothing and jewelry. Total loss was estimated at $1,000.



"PONY EXPRESS" . . . When teachers in the Campbell elementary school district talk of waiting for the "pony" for a book or notice, they don't mean the four-footed kind. Pictured above is Suzanne Hall, instructional materials clerk, and the "Pony Express." The large mail sacks take up one long corridor wall at the district office. Each morning they're delivered by courier to each school in the district.

Interim zoning ordinance for downtown would control development in loop area

AN INTERIM zoning ordinance is scheduled to be presented for council approval on Monday, Sept. 24, for an extended "downtown area."

The purpose of the interim zoning for the area, bounded on the north by Hamilton avenue and on south by Kennedy and between Highway 17 and Winchester boulevard is to provide for strict control for any development planned in the area which is within the sphere of the downtown loop system.

City Attorney Bob Dempster was instructed by the city council at the last meeting to draft the ordinance so as not to prohibit developments.

However, the ordinance will provide that for the period the interim zoning will be in effect (120 days), a use permit granted by the council must be required for any development in the area.

The ordinance that will be presented will be of the "emergency" classification and will become effective upon adoption rather than 30 days later.

ACTING ON instructions from the city council, the planning commission had recommended the interim zoning in order to allow the planning staff time to study what permanent zoning should be established for the area directly affected by the loop system.

The councilmen had indicated that they were concerned as well with the impact the "extended" downtown area would receive from the loop project.

Although the downtown loop system concept and plan line have been approved for more than five years, for the first time funds have been allocated for property acquisition for the rights of way.

One segment of the "north loop" has been constructed for some time (on the south side of the city hall between First and Central) and another section (to be on the south side of the new library between Harrison and Central) has been approved.

The funds that were allocated in this year's budget are in addition to the civic center streets.

All the councilmen have indicated agreement in the loop system concept but some have questioned the proposed method of financing.

COUNCILMAN Bill Podgorsek has been adamant in his stand that the matter of financing the $1 million plus project should be referred to the people.

City staff personnel have suggested that the loop system be financed from gas tax revenue over a period of years.

The downtown loop system provides for one-way streets on either side of Campbell avenue from Harrison to Third street.

If the ordinance is adopted under the "emergency" aspect, no public hearing is necessary. Councilman Ralph Doetsch objected to that but Dempster explained that the ordinance was not "foreclosing the filing of development plans."

The interim zoning or "holding" device would be in effect for only 120 days but could be extended for a year, if the land acquisition for the loop system was not initiated by that time.

DONATING BOOKS for the October 13 book sale is Linda Larson of Campbell. Friends of the Library is sponsoring the fund-raising event, to be held at the Campbell high school campus, corner of Campbell ave. and Winchester boulevard. Those with books to donate should bring them to the Campbell library, 349 E. Campbell ave. where containers are set up to receive them.

Salary negotiations continue with Cambrian teachers

Cambrian school trustees recently granted salary increases to district administrators and classified personnel.

Members of the non-teaching staff had their pay boosted by 8 per cent while the administrators received a 5½ per cent increase effective July 1, 1973.

Meet and confer sessions are still being held between teachers and the school board.

Was Jean drive

Council okays change to Sharman Palms lane

BY A RESOLUTION of the city council, "Jean drive" has now become "Sharman Palms lane." The official action of the city was taken at the last meeting and had been requested in June by Michael Traugott, owner of the former "Jean drive apartments" now called "Sharman Palms."

The planning commission approved the name change in July but the council deferred action until this month to determine whether it was practical to make the change.

City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan reported this week that 35 different governmental agencies must be notified of the name change for the street.

In his request for the name change, Traugott said that since he had taken over the ownership and management of the apartments, most of the units had been remodeled and when the remodeling is completed there will be a "total change to Jean drive."

He indicated that it was a "complete disaster area" when he took over. He said the name change was needed to create a new image and to erase the "stigma" that has been constantly associated with Jean drive.

AT THE SAME COUNCIL meeting, the council denied the appeal from a planning commission ruling that specified that an industrial building of W. A. Horne at 1550 Dell ave. had to be equipped with sprinklers as had been recommended by the fire department.

Edwin J. Myers, a Cupertino architect, claimed that the sprinklers were not a part of the uniform building code requirements.

In another action, the council approved a letter to be sent to Mrs. A. M. G. Russell, chairman of the California Commission on Aging, protesting the fact that Campbell was not included as one of the seven "target areas" in determining priorities for the needs of the aging.

In the letter, suggested by Councilman Rusty Hammer, and signed by Mayor Dean Chamberlin, it was pointed out that the "exclusion will result in a curtailment of present services directed toward the elderly, and will make it extremely difficult for Campbell to receive priority ratings for funding, not only through federal and state funds, but from private foundations as well."

It was also pointed out that Campbell has approved an 81-unit senior citizen complex and plans have been submitted for an additional 130 units.

Also approved was the agreement authorizing the West Valley Hiking club to rent (for $1 per year) the old scout hall at Third and Grant which had been used by the public works department for 10 years, and an agreement with Fred Sahadi, of the Towers-PruneYard, to allow the city to use the rooftop of the Towers for an antenna for the city's communication system.

Stabbing suspect sought by police

Police are seeking a suspect in the altercation in Campbell last week which left one man injured with stab wounds in the chest and leg.

According to reports, the 20-year-old Los Gatos man was stabbed by the suspect in the parking lot of the 7-11 store on West Sunnyoaks avenue.

The suspect is described as a white male, about 18 years of age, six feet tall, with blond hair and blue eyes.

'Story time' originator is nominated for award

SANTA CLARA county's nominee for the 1973 Mental Health volunteer award is a local woman who campaigned to establish a cassette tape "Story Time" program for blind pre-school youngsters.

Florence I. Peer, 896 Greenbay court, was responsible for the program which is now firmly established in the county. Handled through the San Jose city department of parks and recreation, the program has served over 790 children.

Through long experience caring for her blind mother, Mrs. Peer became well acquainted with the threat to emotional and mental health borne by the blind. Convinced that many of the emotional problems of the blind could best be mitigated in early childhood, she began her campaign to establish a regular program of children's literature in cassette form.

RECENTLY, IN CONTRAST with early setbacks, the program has emerged full-grown to provide a three day-a-week, two-hour school "Story Time" at the local Blind association center.

Cassette tape players have also been placed in six area hospital pediatric wards and elderly persons in convalescent homes are presently recording tapes of treasured memories for other elderly infirm persons.

In addition, three special education agencies are serving their own disabled children through the program.

Over 150 tape cassettes are in use and are available to residents through the main library in San Jose.

The program has recently been expanded to serve blind children up to 10 years of age and to also serve emotionally or physically handicapped youngsters. Over 900 books are now available on tape through the program. A total of eight cassette players are now in use but an additional 10 are being donated by a local service club.

SOME 259 INDIVIDUALS have served as "volunteer voices," ranging from State senators to opera stars.

Mrs. Peer, helmswoman for the program, is now Loma Prieta district mental health chairman as well as Loma Prieta district health and welfare chairman, affiliated with the California federated women's clubs. Locally, she is a member of West Valley federated women's club.

Mrs. Peers will be among those honored at the California association of mental health meeting in San Jose Thursday and Friday, Sept. 20 and 21.

Eight lives to go

A cat is responsible for the missing signal light pole at Budd avenue and San Tomas expressway, according to police reports.

As a young San Jose man drove into the intersection on Saturday, the cat, held by a passenger, got loose and jumped on the dashboard. The driver tried to free the cat, wedged between the steering wheel and the instrument panel, and lost control of the car, shearing off the pole.

No citations were issued.

The biggest increase came in the category of single-family residences.

OUT ON THE LIMB

with George Vierhus

FOR THE NEXT THREE week guest columnists will hold forth in this space.

This is a custom we started back in 1965 when we were absent for a period of time for one reason or another and we needed to keep the space filled in our absence. It has proved to be a very satisfactory arrangement and our readers have expressed their appreciation of the respite from our meanderings.

"Constant Reader" (with tongue-in-cheek, we hope) has suggested that we should get substitutes more often. . .say liek 52 times a year. But really "ol' Connie" is only kidding.

For the benefit of the factual-minded people, when our third guest columnist (Don Hebard) completes his task in the Oct. 10 issue, it will mark the 26th time in the eight years since we started the gimmich that someone other than George Vierhus has written "out-on-the-limb."

To break it down even more: that means that for 416 times during the last eight years, we have personally been responsible for the contents of this column. Each column contains between 1200-1500 words, which means then that since 1965 we have written somethinmg like a half-million words that have appeared under the "out-on-the-limb" heading.

And then when one realizes that this column appeared for the first time in The Press in 1956, one gets some idea of how wordy we have been in this town. You can take our owrd for it.

• • •

WHAT WE STARTED out to tell you is Homer Hyde, Jim D'Avis and Don Hebard have been lined up to do "out-on-the-limb" for the next three issues.

Homer, former planning commissioner and mayor and presently chairman of the Bay Area Regional Water Control district board, will present the column on Spet. 26. D'Avis, superintendent of the Campbell elementary school district, comes forth on Oct. 3 and Hebard, chairman of the planning commission, does the job on Oct. 10.

By the way, we note that there have been only a few repeaters among the 26 "subs" who have written "the limb" since 1965. City Manager Bob Stephens holds some sort of a record. His "offerings" have appeared three different times (1965, 1966 and 1969). And he is still city manager!

IN THE SPRING OF THE year there is a concerted drive to clear the vacant lots of weeds etc., to cut down on the fire hazards that exist. There is a weed abatement program in effect in this city which allows the charge for cleaning the lots to become a lien against the property. The growth on some of these lots gets mighty heavy, as you can imagine, and develops a dangerous condition from a fire point of view.

One of these lots is located next to The Press building and each year we view with alarm the heavy growth until it is cleared away under the direction of fire department. In addition to the over-abundance of weeds, there is a fringe of bushes and trees bordering the lot adjacent to our building. When the weeds are cleared, the bushes remain. Seldom do we ever have occasion however, to examine the trees and bushes.

(We recall in the past that during the nice weather so-called "winos" used to actually camp out there but most of in The Press building wouln't know it until the cops would come and clear the campers out periodically).

That all came to mind recently when the building was being painted. In order to make room for the ladder, etc., some of the trees and bushes had to be cut back. Imagine the surprise of all when an electric refrigerator was uncovered, or discovered, partially covered by one of the bushes.

No, it was not used to keep the wine cool for the transients who used the bushes. There was no way to connect the electricity. Someone apparently had just backed a truck up and dumped the refrigerator in the bushes. We thought that was a novel way to start a dump ground . . . right in the middle of the business section of town.

We also had other thoughts: But we can't express those thoughts here.

OBVIOUSLY INTER-CITY RIVALRY is no new thing.

We suppose there was rivalry between cities in ancient Greece and before that even. And, of course, in the modern era sometimes the rivalry between cities has reached a high peak.

We were reminded of that recently when we overheard two people arguing over the merits of their respective cities. One of the parties was a resident of Los Gatos and the other lived in Campbell. The climax came when the Los Gatos resident maintained that the traffic was worse on Santa Cruz ave. (the main drag in Los Gatos), than it was on Campbell ave. in Campbell.

Who could possibly win that argument?

AT THE LAST CITY COUNCIL meeting, adjustments in the meeting schedule for October were decided upon. The council regularly meets on the second and fourth Mondays each month and the planning commision meets on the first and third Mondays.

Obviously, if holidays fall on the regular meeting days such as was the case this month because of Labor Day and admission, the official city bodies meet the next night. "Holidays," of course, are determined long before they arrive.

Take for example the case next month. There is an official city holiday on Monday, Oct. 8, when the city offices are closed. The council will meet on Tuesday because of the holiday. Guess what holiday it is? No, it's not Veterans Day (that's Oct. 22 which is another holiday which closes the city hall and defers the council meeting).

According to the official city calendar, Monday, Oct. 8 is Columbus Day! And the city offices will be closed. Even some of the city councilmen were surprised, althought the holidays had been designated by the council originally.

"But why "Columbus Day?" some of the city fathers asked. City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan volunteered the information that it was a popular day for people of Italian extraction. Maybe that was the reason. But there was considerable shaking of heads among the city fathers. It was also decided to change the second meeting date of month. Because of Veterans Day (Monday, Oct. 23), the council had been slated to meet the next night.

However, it was found that the councilmen were going to be in attendance at the annual League of Cities convention at that time. So it was decided to meet the following Monday, Oct. 29, which, incidentally, is the "fifth Monday" of the month. In the city circles of Campbell that's the "extra" Monday when the city hall is dark, unless a study session is scheduled.

So the holidays are now straightened out for October. Columbus Day?

AT A RECENT STUDY SESSION when the allocation of federal revenue sharing funds was under discussion, $100,000 was "Lost" in an awful hurry.

The total for revenue-sharing was $428,414 according to the report furnished to the group. Of that figure, $262,414 has been more or less officially or unofficially committed at that time. That left according to the report, an estimated $266,000 still unallocated.

It was Ed Fabbri, Chamber of Commerce president and Bank of America manager, who was the first to catch the error in subtraction. Only $166,000 remained unallocated. Not $266,000.

It proves, as we have always noted, that bankers are plenty sharp when it comes to subtraction. And addition.

Sign apathy?

ONE OF THE most controversial issues that the present city council has divided on has been the question of signs oriented to the freeway.

And at the last meeting of the city council, it developed that the city council is still divided.

By a 3-2 vote, it was decided that the question of whether the present sign ordinance, which allows freeway - oreinted signs under council approval, should be referred to members of the citizens goals committee who had listed the "reconsideration" as a "goal."

Under the present ordinance, freeway-oriented signs can be allowed, if the city council approved the sign application and that a need is shown.

Before the council acts on the request, the planning commission must first make a recommendation.

The majority of the council felt that the issue should be discussed, if those goals committee members who had submitted the question desired the discussion.

On the other hand, two councilmen felt there was not need for reconsideration because no one was present at that particular council meeting to press the matter.

The motion that was passed by a 3-2 count directed staff to notify members of the committee who had professed interest in the subject.

While we submit that there are probably many more pressing matters for council concern than this freeway-oriented sign business, we find no fault in the special referral routine that was approved by the council last week.

We agree that apparently it is not considered an extremely vital issue or there would have been citizen representation at the council meeting.

But we do not hold to the brief that the matter should not be considered because it might stir up the community.

It could very well be that there is no interest in the issue and thus the matter could be dropped.

But we think it is well to find out if there is any interest and whether those interested did not show up because they did not know the matter would be on the agenda.

This is just another step in the citizen-involvement program that we think is highly important to any progressive community.

Summer is over and the last of the vacationers have returned home with memories of good times and far away places.

MR. and MRS. FLOYD ARNOLD of Circle drive spent seven weeks in Battle Creek, Mich., visiting their daughter, JUDITH ERK and her husband RAYMOND, and their son, PHILIP ARNOLD and wife LINDA. Most rewarding for the Arnolds was, of course, renewing friendships with their five grandchildren in Battle Creek . . .

SHARON VICK and HELEN GLAGE of Campbell left husbands and children at home when they took their vacation this year. The pair traveled with their friends, JEAN STUBBLEFIELD of Salinas and MARY BURTON of Cupertino, to Guatemala, Panama and Costa Rica.

The nine day getaway included a side trip to Tikal in northern Guatemala for a look at the Mayan ruins. A visit to the San Blas Islands in the Caribbean revealed that the inhabitants, Cuna Indians, live in grass huts and there is a grass hut "hotel" (the only hotel available) for those interested in staying over on the islands.

The ladies found their unscheduled sidetrip as exciting as any of the planned ones. Unable to land at San Jose, Costa Rica, because of an electrical storm their plane was diverted to Managua, Nicaragua, site of last December's earthquake. There they viewed the heavy damage done the airport, which is still under repair, and though not permitted to leave the airport they saw, via pictures in the lobby, damage done to the city . . .

Members of the WEST VALLEY PROGRESSIVE SENIORS thought they were really "in a pickle" recently when over 1,000 pounds of cucumbers were given to the Senior center by Rancho Posada (an Economic and Social Opportunity project). Helping the seniors out was Allen Wald from radio station KLIV who announced the sale and the cucumbers sold quickly at the bargain price of three cents apiece.

You're too late for the cucumber buy of the year but the seniors remind the public that other bargains are available at their consumer exchange store. Handmade items such as ponchos, pillows, aprons, candle holders and a host of others are on display at the store located at 41 W. Rincon ave . . .

But what's its fate?

Fledgling communications system celebrates its first birthday

Communications center dispatcher Jerry Miller gets a call on the local communications system. Looking on is Captain John Butler.

New ideas aid in dispatch

By PAT SAFFORD

CAMPBELL'S COMMUNICATION SYSTEM, operating out of police headquarters, will celebrate its first birthday Oct. 1.

Future of the system is now in question with recent efforts by the county to win back local agencies to the county communications system fold.

Prior to last year Campbell contracted with the county system on an annual basis for service. Rising costs of this service brought about establishing the local communication headquarters.

Contract cost to Campbell by the county was $16,778 in 1970-71. The following year it was raised to $31,778 and for 1972-73 price tag of $65,994 was placed on the service. According to Police Chief Don Burr, costs were expected to top $90,000 by 1973-74.

WHILE LOCAL COST OF operating an independent communications system were higher than projected, some $57,000 for last year, compared with an estimated $44,000, total costs were still less than the county charge. (Campbell already had the equipment so the lion's share of the cost is for dispatchers' salaries.)

The question of economy may change drastically if the county offers Campbell free dispatch service. (Los Gatos now has the county service at no cost.)

Last month city councilmen wrote a letter to Ralph Mehrkens, chairman of the Santa Clara county board of supervisors. In it, they opposed the action of supervisors to provide free dispatching and telephone answering service to "certain cities and districts in the county," out of the county's general fund. At the same time they requested definitive information on when the county might offer Campbell free service.

The question of double taxation has also been raised. District's operating their own dispatch services pay operational costs out of city taxes and, at the same time, local taxpayers finance the county service through county tax revenues.

SHOULD CAMPBELL BE OFFERED free service, the question of how long this might continue is still unanswered. Should the county provide free service the first year only and then begin charging the following year, Campbell would be in the same budgetary bind that prompted converting to a local facility in the first place. Meanwhile, two new additions to the present service have been installed.

The first, a "silent alarm" system, now connects the Campbell police facility to local businesses. New hook-ups are being installed each week to the alarm panel which can accommodate 140 firms. "We can add more as needed," said Chief Burr.

The second, an "electrowriter," began operating last week between the dispatch office and local fire stations. When a fire call comes in the dispatcher now activates the electrowriter and writes down the location and nature of the call as it is coming in. The station is alerted and receives the message on the writer simultaneously.

The new machine cuts down on the time involved in dispatching fire equipment.

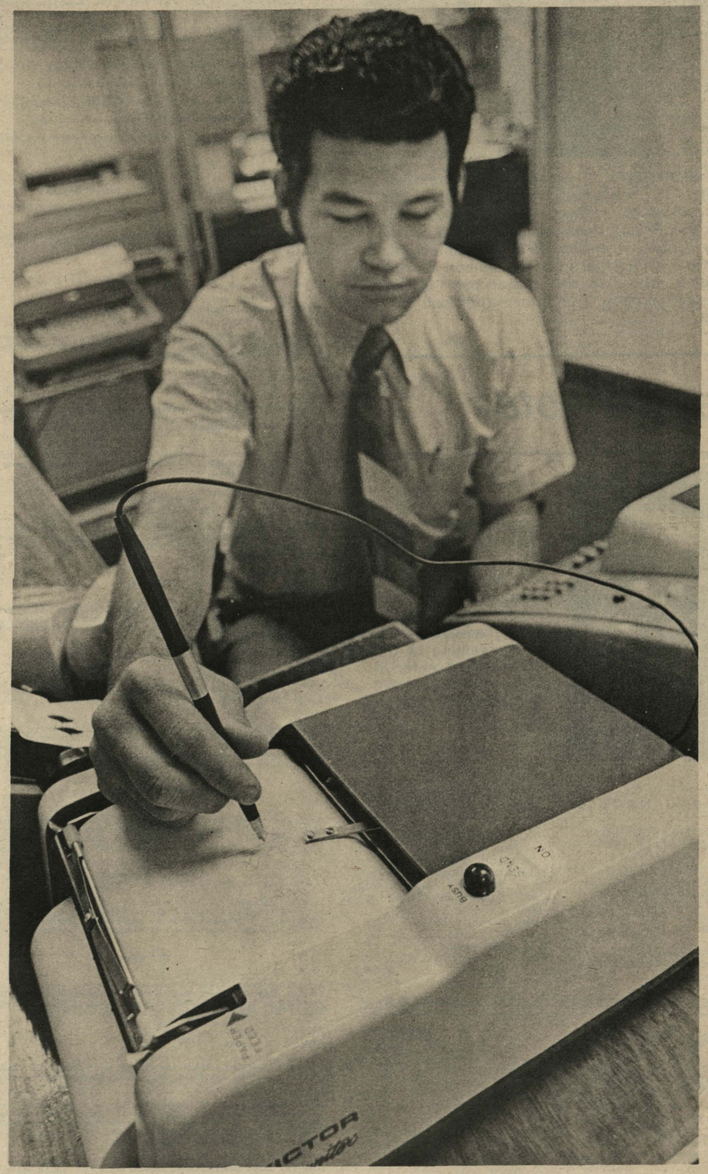
TODAY, ALMOST ONE YEAR after the local dispatch service went into operation, the local police official feels it has been operating effectively. "In fact," said Chief Burr, "it is operating a bit more effectively and efficiently than I had anticipated."

Prior to last year emergency calls were answered locally, daily from 9 to 5 p.m., and then called into the county dispatch system who, in turn, dispatched local units. After 5 p.m. the county system answered all incoming calls.

Chief Burr feels the level of service is greater than before with Campbell dispatchers covering the local area.

Last Tuesday evening city councilmen authorized an agreement with the Towers building, 1901 S. Bascom ave., to erect communications equipment on the roof of the 19-story building. The city will pay $25 monthly, or the cost to the Towers for the energy required to operate the equipment. Term of the contract is August, 1973 to July 31, 1978.

Police Chief Don Burr, foreground, gives a tour of the Campbell communications system. Future of the local dispatching service may be in question.



Dispatcher Jerry Miller demonstrates the new "electrowriter" that can cut valuable minutes off the time it takes for fire units to respond to an alarm.

Biondi and crew 'wreck' Dons

By DAVE MENDONCA

Tony Biondi ought to go into business for himself as a one man wrecking crew.

The Lincoln speedster did a good job of wrecking Del Mar's home opener last Friday afternoon by leading the Lions to a 21-15 win over the Dons.

Biondi was all over the Don field—catching passes, running sweeps, returning punts and punting.

The 5'9" senior scored a pair of touchdowns on the day, including the Lion's final score of the day which proved to be the game winner.

On a third and 18 to go situation on the Don 22 Biondi hauled in a screen pass from Brad Walker and turned it into a spectacular touchdown run, cutting against the grain of the Del Mar defense. Wes Hitchcock added the extra point.

Del Mar bounced back with a touchdown late in the fourth quarter on a 59 yard bomb from Mickey Plesha to Ken Hightower to cut the gap to six points. But an attempted onsides kick was recovered by Lincoln and the Lions were content to salt away the clock.

Biondi finished the day with 35 yards on the ground and 76 yards through the air. He snared eight of Walker's 10 completions.

Biondi also set up the Lion's first touchdown of the game by returning a punt 22 yards to the Del Mar 18.

Walker then hit Biondi on a swing pass, Biondi making a sensational one hand grab of the ball, for eight yards down to the 10.

Walker, with a Don lineman draped all over him, then hit Biondi in the corner of the endzone to score just before the half ended. Hitchcock added the PAT.

Del Mar held the lead only once in the game, that coming early in the third period when Plesha hit Hightower with an 11 yard look-in for the TD, capping an eight play, 55 yard scoring march.

Andy Gurrola started the drive by recovering a Lincoln fumble on the Del Mar 45. Kirk Poppey broke loose for 15 yards and a Lincoln 15 yard penalty kept the drive going.

Tony Caravelli, who carried the ball four times on the drive, added a two point conversion to give DM an 8-7 lead.

The Lion's other touchdown was tallied by Steve Lettrich on an 11 yard toss from Walker late in the third quarter.

Caravelli finished the day wtih 27 yards on six carries to rank as the club's second leading ground gainer. Poppey was Del Mar's leading rusher with 45 yards on nine carries, a pick up of five yards a carry.

Hightower caught three Plesha passes for 76 yards to tie Biondi for most pass yardage. Plesha finished the day with six completes in 12 attempts for 99 yards.

Walker was 10 for 19 for the Lions for 112 yards.

Lincoln will take on Santa Clara Friday night at Townsend field for their second game of the season. Game time will be 8 p.m.

Del Mar won't play again until Friday, September 28, when they visit Leigh in a 3:30 p.m. contest, the first game of the regular West Valley athletic league season.

PASS THIEF — Stepping in front of a Lincoln receiver to pick off a Brad Walker pass is Del Mar defensive back Lou Valetta. But the interception was not enough to stop Lincoln from registering a 21-15 win in the two clubs' '73 opener last Friday.

Warriors, Bucs, Panthers prep for local '73 grid openers

The 1973 football season gets underway for three local high schools this weekend, a week later than most schools in the Santa Clara valley.

Don Stagnero's Westmont Warriors will be at home Saturday afternoon to take on the Pioneer Mustangs of the Santa Teresa athletic league in a 1 p.m. contest.

According to Stagnero, the Warrior's defense has looked tough during pre-season workouts.

"Our defense is going to be strong," he said. "Our offense is young, though. We're going to have to work on our offense a lot."

Stagnero singled out his defensive front four of Tom Espinosa, John Magee, Gary Deats and Pat Sampino for looking good during early season practices. The Warrior's linebacking crew of Pat Owens, Dan Zeiher, Sheldon Henderson and Keith Meyer has also looked tough.

Offensively, Stagnero says his running backs have shown good potential. Returning all-leaguer Jerry Porter, just recovering from a pulled hamstring and Tim Hart and Owens have all been running well.

Prospect opens their '73 slate Friday night at Cupertino high where they will play Lynbrook in a game under the lights at 8 p.m.

"We're looking stronger every day," notes Earl Adams, the Panther coach. "We've shown a lot of hustle."

According to Adams, his defense is also ahead of the offense. The front four of Ross McCammon, Ed Townly, John Morris and Don Knapp have looked fearsome.

"They're all returners and they should make our defense our strongest point," notes Adams.

The Prospect mentors expects his club to have a strong running game with John Stewart, Jeff Freitas, Glen Holz and Scott Feldman doing most of the rushing.

Campbell, meanwhile, will open their schedule with Homestead Saturday evening at Fremont high school. Game time is 8 p.m.

As of last week, the Bucaneers were being ravaged by injuries which were slowing down Campbell's progress.

"We're really hurting with injuries," Buc coach Al Matthews said. "But if we get everybody healthy we should be a pretty good team."

One of the top players on the Buc's squad this year will be tight end-linebacker Tom Guardino, who Matthews said "is one of the greatest tight ends I've ever coached."

Another player who has looked good during the pre-season workouts has been center Keith Stone, a 6'2" senior.

PLAY BALL! — Ready for action for the September 25 Police athletic league benefit softball game are PSA cartoon characters and their hostesses. Daffy Duck, Buggs Bunny, Sylvester the cat and Yosemite Sam will all be on hand for the PAL Odd Squad-KSFO No-Star clash at Municipal stadium in San Jose. # 'Bad, bad softball' benefits PAL

"Bad, bad softball" will make for a great, great show Tuesday, September 25, when the KSFO No-Stars travel to San Jose to meet the local Police athletic Odd-Squad in a benefit game at the San Jose Municipal stadium at 6:30 p.m.

Family entertainment is the keynote for the evening's event with a host of celebrities and many civic dignitaries involved.

"Whenever KSFO plays a softball game, it's never really a softball game," admitted local game director John Bruno. "The unexpected is always expected."

"But family entertainment is what we're really trying to promote," added Bruno.

The six inning game has always provided fun for spectators when the No-Stars have battled the San Francisco PAL organization. And the game in San Jose, bound to be an annual match-up if attendance is good promises to be just as much fun.

No-Stars who will be on hand for the event from KSFO include Jim Lange, Gene Nelson, Terry McGovern, Dick McGarvin, Russ Syracuse, Diane Walter, Fred Meyer, Warren Boggess, Ross Hussey, Aaron Edwards, Al Newman and many others.

Leading the Odd-Squad into action will be Billy Wilson, a member of local PAL board and former SF 49'er great, "Crazy" George Henderson, San Jose state university football coach Darryl Rogers, Sheriff James Geary, PAL president Jim Guido, the channel 11 crew of Bob Hoesfeldt, John Chaffettz, Fred LaCosse and Don Hayward, councilman Jim Self, Dick Reed of the San Jose parks and recreation department, Lee Brandenberg, Rudy Stoedler and PAL board members Ed Rosette and Chuck Longwellow.

Invitations have been sent by the Odd-Squad to SJ mayor Norman Mineta, former major league pitching great Don Larson and former 49'er all-pro tackle Leo "The Lion" Nomelini.

Making appearances at the game will also be Buggs Bunny, Daffy Duck, Yosemite Sam and Sylvester the Cat of cartoon fame.

There will be door prizes and sign contests for each team. Prizes will be awarded to those who design the best signs for the two clubs.

A pom pon contest between two local high school teams will be held and live music will be provided. Also tentatively scheduled is a wrist wrestling exhibition to promote the local wrist wrestling contest to be sponsored by the PAL.

"CRAZY" MAN — Climbing the speaker pole for a better view of the action, "Crazy" George Henderson performs at a San Jose state university football game where he became famous for his antics as a cheerleader. # Shut-outs top PAL grid scene

Shut-outs dominated the action last week when youth football teams of the San Jose Police athletic league opened their seasons for 1973.

Oak Grove's four clubs notched a quartet of those whitewashes over the Spartan youth football league clubs.

The Oak Grove Rebels edged the Spartan Vikings 6-0 and the OG Raiders took the Trojans 10-0. The Renegades of Oak Grove romped past the Spartans 46-0 and the OG Ramblers took an easy 27-0 win over the Gladiators.

Three Eastside clubs picked up a trio of wins over Santa Clara teams. The Eastside Raiders took the Santa Clara Lions 28-16, the Pirates ripped the SC Cubs 32-8 and the Eastside Bucs whipped the SC Wildcats 25-6.

ABOY clubs from the Branham area came through the first weekend without a loss but one of their four clubs was tied. The DeAnza Squires tied the ABOY Mavericks 6-6. But the Cowboys ripped the Stockton Lions 20-6, the Wranglers smashed the Eastside Maurauders 42-0 and the Rangers shut-out the Athletic Club of East San Jose Colts 12-0.

The biggest win of opening day was a 48-0 victory registered by the Almaden Braves over the Gold Coast Warriors. The Almaden Scouts took the Eastside Crusaders 13-6, the Almaden Indians blanked the Mission City Redskins 18-0 and the Almaden Warriors fell to the DeAnza Lancers 29-13.

The West Valley Touchdown club's four teams all lost in action against the Los Gatos-Saratoga Gridiron club. The Bengals of LG-S took the Green Berets 24-0, the Panthers snuck by the Gold Berets 12-6, the Cougars crunched the Red Berets 26-12 and the Bobcats handled the Silver Berets 12-6.

Milpitas' Knights won two of their three Sunday games. The Gold Knights took the Gold Rattlers 14-0 and the Green Knights took the Silver Rattlers 13-7. The White Rattlers picked up the victory in the first game over the White Knights 19-7.

ACE San Jose lost a pair of games to Mission City. The Chiefs took the Broncos 34-0 and the Apaches nipped the Mustangs 13-6.

"The winner and still the heavyweight champion of the world, Muhammad Ali!"

Well, that wasn't exactly the cry the ringmaster bellowed when the decision went to Ali last week in his bout with Ken Norton. But maybe it should have been.

The Ali-Norton fight didn't turn out to be what anyone thought it would be. Some thought Ali would avenge his March loss to the rippling former football player with a neat, easy win. Others felt that the strong Norton would again wipe the smile from the face of the former champ.

I must admit that I would have fallen into the former category, expecting "the champ" to dance and finesse Norton into a heap on the canvas.

The fight didn't turn out as many expected it would—but those who were surprised were pleasantly so.

It was simply a great fight. It's one of very few bouts that could have been called a draw and all involved would have walked away satisfied. It was truly championship caliber.

Ali looked like the Cassius Clay of old in the early rounds, "floating like a butterfly" about the ring. But Norton started "stinging like a bee" and cutting down the size of the canvas for the former champ.

But by now, anyone with even a slight interest in boxing knows how the fight came out. And they even tell me that the champ, George Foreman, was there.

So who did Foreman pick as his next opponent? Jerry Quarry, a guy who has been unable to go the distance in two fights with Ali and one with former champ Joe Frazier, is next in line for a title crack. Could it be because of his "stunning" win over Tony Doyle (who?) That sounds like one of the guys Frazier might have battled in his stint at the top—you know, the kind of guy you don't hear much about.

When are we to have another champ like Ali? Maybe he doesn't have what it takes to beat Foreman now, or even Frazier or Norton again. But he's only lost a pair of bouts in his career and he certainly should have a crack at the best.

At least when Ali was the champ he'd fight them all. Foreman has put up his crown only once against Jose Roman and he knocked him out in the first round. If he is, in fact, the next Joe Louis, why should he be afraid to fight?

For years fight fans have moaned that there were no heavyweight contenders—no one to fight guys like Frazier, Ali and Foreman. But now Norton has entered that picture. And big Joe Bugner. And now there should be enough contenders to force the champ to the ring every few months and build boxing back to what it used to be.

Certainly fights like the Ali-Norton battle are helping the sport. And if Foreman will put up his title against some of these guys, instead of waiting for guys like Bruce Limpwrist or Percy Wigglewalk, boxing will again become the great spectator sport it once was.

Foreman could well be the greatest boxing champ we've had in years. But his inactivity is just winning him the criticism that hit Frazier just last year. Frazier just could figure in history as the worst champ ever.

Power-slugging George just may be the best fighter in the heavyweight ranks. He may be able to handle Ali or Norton in as little time as it took him to dispose of Frazier. But no one will ever know unless he gets into the ring against them.

That's the way to stifle all of the bad rumors. No one could criticize Foreman for not putting his title up against the best; if he won by knock out or even decision no one could doubt his boxing abilities again; if he lost to the likes of Ali or Norton the critics would have to eat their words after calling them both old and tired; and no one would have any doubts as to who actually is the world's best heavyweight.

Foreman does admit that bouts with Frazier and Ali are soon to come, right after he beats Quarry in November.

But I'd hate to think that a great champ like Foreman would use his age so much to his advantage and wait to fight the aging boxers until they lose some of their speed to the years.

Forecasters pick 7 of 8

A skeleton schedule in the West Valley athletic league and a full slate of ballgames in the Santa Teresa loop nab the spotlight on the local football scene this week.

And after a near perfect first week, the fearless SUN-PRESS forecasters will attempt to keep their good record intact with a strong week of predictions.

With just one score not in at presstime (Willow Glen vs. Saratoga), the seers picked seven of the right winners in last week's action.

Leigh topped Leland 7-0, Branham took Peterson 15-6, Los Gatos whitewashed San Jose 35-0, Pioneer edged Blackford 14-7, Lincoln zipped Del Mar 21-15, Gilroy squeaked by Yerba Buena 19-16 and Oak Grove ripped Live Oak 33-13. Our only miss was Camden's 14-6 loss to Santa Cruz.

Only three WVAL clubs are in action this weekend. Friday Prospect will meet Lynbrook in non-league action at Cupertino high at 8 p.m. and will nail a six point victory.

Saturday at 1 p.m. Pioneer of the STAL visits Westmont and will win a close three point decision from the Warriors. That night, 8 p.m., Campbell challenges Homestead at Fremont high and will fall by six.

In other STAL action, Live Oak visits Hollister Friday at 8 p.m. and will lose by 12. Gilroy will host Half Moon Bay, Leland visits Wilcox and Lincoln cracks heads with Santa Clara at Townsend field. All games are set for 8 p.m. starts and all STAL teams will win, Gilroy by eight, Leland by two and the Lions by six.

San Jose battles Awalt Friday at 8 p.m. at Foothill college but will fall for the second week in a row, this time by eight.

Saturday, after Pioneer battles Westmont at 1 p.m. Willow Glen will lock horns with Los Altos at the Police athletic league field at 7:30 p.m. LA will win by six.

Football coaches rate top contenders in loops

Who should know best who will come out champions in the local high school football leagues if not the coaches of the teams involved. And who do those coaches see as the leading 1973 contenders? (Some coaches named more than one club).

In the West Valley athletic league most coaches feel Saratoga the team to beat. Eight loop coaches feel Saratoga the top contender. Three added that Leigh was a possible title favorite and two each noted Branham and Westmont as clubs to watch. Los Gatos and Camden were each mentioned by one coach as contenders.

James Lick and Oak Grove are the top choices in the Mt. Hamilton athletic league. Seven coaches list Lick and five Oak Grove to be the MHAL leaders. Two mentioned Milpitas and one each Mt. Pleasant and Piedmont Hills to be in contention.

If the Santa Teresa athletic league coaches are right, Pioneer and Gilroy will tie for the top spot and Willow Glen and Lincoln will deadlock for third. Five each went for the two Mustang clubs and three each for the Rams and Lions.

Vikes look for revenge in rivalry renewal

During the regular season the West Valley Viking's most bitter rivalry exists between them and the DeAnza Dons. But during the pre-season their biggest game annually is against the San Jose city college Jaguars.

The Vikings will be seeking revenge Saturday night when they travel to SJCC for a 7:30 p.m. contest against the Jags.

Last year San Jose handed the Vikings an unexpected 36-14 defeat, interrupting a three year win streak by WVC. The Vikings hadn't lost to San Jose since 1968.

West Valley holds a slight 4-3 advantage in the overall series which began in 1966. Prior to last year's loss, West Valley had won three straight games from the Jags by scores of 19-0, 53-14 and 17-0.

The Vikings, who have just one more preseason game before the regular Camino Norte conference season gets underway, have won the CNC crown the past four consecutive years. Last year they tied for the crown with DeAnza.

Cantrell saw limited action in 1972 for the Vikes but was still their third leading ground gainer with 172 yards in 54 rushes, an average of 3.1 yards per carry. He scored only two touchdowns last year. But the Vikes are hoping he can score like he did at Branham. During his senior year for the Bruins he tallied 22 TD's.

The defense will be led by all-CNC tackle Ken Padia (Leigh). Padia, 6'2", 218 pounds, was credited with 45 tackles last season and big things are expected of him in '73.

After playing SJCC, the Vikes have just one pre-season contest next week against Ventura before opening up CNC play against Santa Rosa.

Kaeding guns for record

Campbell engineer Howard Kaeding needs another main event victory during NASCAR super modified competition at the San Jose Speedway to become the greatest single season winner in the track's 26-year history.

Keading won his 16th feature, his 11th in succession, September 8. Howard's number 16 ties the previous record established by the retired Marshall Sargent in 1960 and tied by "Sarge in 1966.

In registering his 16th triumph, Kaeding moved another step closer to clinching his first speedway title in 18 years of campaigning.

The defending California NASCAR champion now has 1,451 points, a commanding 154 margin over defending title holder, San Francisco mechanic Nick Rescino. Rescino, who finished far down in the pack, has 1,197.

There are five weeks of point competition remaining and Rescino faces an almost impossible task should he hope to retain his crown.

Other point leaders include Don Epperson, San Jose, who has all but clinched the 1973 California title, 948; Ed Hopper, San Jose, 853; Terry Chalker, San Jose, 814 and Roland Wlodyka, Sunnyvale, 788.

EVBC slates fall rides

The East Valley bicycle club has two rides on tap for late September and early October. On Sunday, September 30, the EVBC group will meet at San Jose Municipal stadium at 10 a.m. for a ride to Vasona lake.

On October 7 the interested bikers will meet at Stafford lake near Novato in Marin county for a six mile ride around the lake and a tour of the Marin cheese factory. For more information call 266-5403.

Tough Mustang defense helps offense handle Blackford

By DICK SPARRER
Sports Editor

The offense scored two touchdowns to lead the Pioneer Mustangs to an opening day 14-7 victory over the Blackford Braves. But if it hadn't been for the defense, the Mustangs might have had nothing to celebrate Friday night.

Not only did the Mustang defense put together two goalline stands to cut off possible Blackford touchdowns, but they also blocked a punt to set up the game winning score.

Jon Scott got a hand on a Brave punt late in the third quarter. The Jim Aiello kick traveled only 17 yards to the Brave 45 where Randy Vosters gathered it in, the coverage already past, and romped 42 yards to the three.

On the first play of the fourth period Walt Williams burst over the goalline from the three for what proved the game winning score. Jesse Saenz booted the extra point and it was 14-7.

"The defense did a good job," said Mustang coach Jerry Method. "But the offense was sporatic. I'm pleased with the win but not really with the way we played."

"We learned a lot though," added Method. "The kids hung in there when they had to."

Kevin Douglas was the top ground gainer in the game for Pioneer, rambling for 59 yards on 13 tries. Williams picked up 45 yards on 15 totes.

Keith Beeck went to the air 21 times in the contest for the winners, hooking up on nine of them for 94 yards. He was intercepted twice. Vosters and Jim Ogle each caught three passes, Ogle's receptions good for 59 yards. James Garrett caught two passes.

Ken Ucci gained 54 yards on 18 carries for Blackford and Aiello picked up 30 on 10 tries. The Braves completed only one of seven passes for just a yard.

Blackford threatened in the first quarter. Steve Ware covered a Pioneer fumble on the Mustang 48 early in the game and the Braves started to roll.

Led by the running of Ucci, the Braves marched to a first and goal at the seven. Ucci burst for three and another three to take it down to the one. But on third down Lynn Potts stopped him short of the end zone and on fourth down Dan Burke and Dennis Ferguson combined to drop Ucci for a three yard loss.

Pioneer began to pull out of the hole on the four but a Beeck pass was picked off by Cliff Prensohke and returned to the 24. However, two plays later Russ Hajik stole a Ucci aerial and the Mustangs had the ball again.

The Mustangs proceeded to march 95 yards on 17 plays, sparked by three passes from Beeck to Ogle and the one-two running punch of Williams and Douglas, capped by a four yard Beeck to Vosters touchdown pass with 5:13 left in the half. Bill Peterson kicked the extra point.

Wayne Hagin gave Mitch Flynn a chance to tie the game with just 2:14 left in the half. Hagin returned a Potts punt 72 yards for a touchdown and Flynn kicked the point after.

Blackford threatened again late in the game after Gary Hill scooped up a Beeck fumble on the Mustang 15. Tom Blanchard carried four times for 10 yards to the five and Flynn and Aiello each gained one to push the ball to the three.

On fourth down Potts, Jess Gutierrez and Mike Giammona forced Flynn into a quick throw and Hajik tapped the ball away to give Pioneer possession late in the fourth.

Tops on the defense for the Mustangs were Scott, Potts, Burke, Hajik, Denice, Mike McGovern, Harry Reed, Mike Adair, Steve Nadeau and John Garrett, who intercepted a pass.

A's adjust September stretch drive slate

Two adjustments have been made in the Oakland A's schedule this week, it was announced by the world champions.

The starting time for Tuesday's (September 18) home game with the California Angels has been changed from 8 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. The change, made by mutual agreement between the two clubs, was initiated because of travel problems.

The A's will be flying to Minneapolis after the game to open a four-game series with the Twins and the Angels will be heading for Texas and a series with the Rangers.

The other schedule change has to do with the A's series in the Twin-Cities. The rained out game of April 15th, originally rescheduled as part of a doubleheader Wednesday, September 19, has been switched to Thursday, September 20. Starting time for the twin-bill will be 5:30 p.m. (3:30 PDT).

Red flags hurt Camden

A red hanky injured hopes of a Camden high school football victory when the Cougars opened their 1973 season with a 14-6 loss at the hands of Santa Cruz high on the winner's field.

Camden and SC were penalized a total of 210 yards in the flag marred game but 120 of those yards went against the Cougars.

"Penalties really played a key role in the game," said Camden coach Bob Gatiss whose club the officials had knocked back 65 yards in the first quarter alone. "But I'm still real optimistic. If the kids keep their heads I'm sure we're going to be tough. I still think this is the best team I've had here at Camden."

The two clubs battled through the first quarter in a scoreless deadlock before Santa Cruz broke the scoring ice in the second quarter with a 44 yard pass-run play to the fullback coming out of the backfield. They booted the extra point and led 7-0.

Camden scored on their first possession in the second half. After the kick-off, Steve Wilson passed to Dave Pursey for 20 yards and a piling on penalty carried the ball to the SC 28.

Wilson went to tight end Rick Davis for 25 yards to put the ball on the three. Sophomore fullback Al Aufang took it from there and on the next play crashed over the goalline. The two point conversion try failed and it was tight at 7-6.

A Pursey fumble on the Camden 34 set up the game's final TD, Santa Cruz scoring on a six yard run a few plays later.

"We missed a lot of opportunities to score," said Gatiss. Camden recovered an SC fumble on the winner's 27, Kurt Nelson gathering in the loose pigskin, but couldn't score. And Pursey recovered a fumble on the 23 but the Cougars couldn't push it over.

Many other times penalties just took them out of range. "The penalties were unbelievable," added the coach. "Three of our guys were tossed out and two of theirs were. And we had one guy thrown out in the junior varsity game. In my eight years at Camden we hadn't had four guys thrown out and now four are thrown out in one night!"

"It was really a close game but it wasn't a dirty game," said Gatiss.

Pursey was the top ground getter for the Cougars, gaining 56 yards on 18 tries. Aufang carried eight times for 38 yards. Wilson went to the air 18 times and completed just five for 92 yards. He was intercepted three times and all three killed potential drives. Davis caught two passes for 45 yards and Pursey, Gordon Storga and Gary DeLaRoche each caught one.

Davis also played a strong game as the Camden punter, booming his boots for a 39.6 average. "Potentially he's as good or better as (Jeff) Cunningham from last year's club," said Gatiss. Cunningham is now handling the punting chores for the San Jose state university varsity as a freshman.

Santa Cruz picked up 206 yards total offense in the game and Camden went for 190.

The Camden coaches got just a short look at Otis Davis, a transfer who will help out at tailback for the Cougars.

Hurt in the game was defensive backplace kicker Mickey Rose who slipped in the moist going and injured his knee. The extent of his injury has not yet been determined.
